On June 8th we marked 44 years of Sports Leisure Vacations. Those are the official numbers but the baseball trips were around for a year before I learned you had to have a special license to be a tour operator. So secretly, we were not so legal for a year. Hey, who was to know we were entering such an elite club, tour operators.

The first trip, a gambling junket to Lake Tahoe, left at 5:30pm on Friday night, June 8th 1979 and returned at 5:30am the following morning. Sort of like a red-eye to Tahoe. That schedule lasted three weeks. Ask me about the Engelbert Humperdinck story sometime. Or sleeping in the luggage rack on the bus...

By then, we discovered the weekday, during the day crowd to be our market (a true gift I never counted on, of course, since I never thought this would go past buses to baseball games, you could say I never counted on any of it).

Our first travelers would have been from your grandparents generation. They helped us grow by suggesting they would like to go to places around California, Washington, DC, Hawaii and even overseas (Australia was our first "over a pond" adventure).

They told us reserved seating on the bus was a huge plus. They wrote letters to the late congressman Robert Matsui when our right to be in business was challenged by archaic rules. The congressman saved the day, by doing what congress people are supposed to do, help their constituents. That taught me a lesson. Always know your congressperson.

Those early riders brought life lessons with them to our young staff. We worked hard, and they rewarded our efforts with loyalty and they told their friends. 30 years ago, Clayton Whitehead arrived on the scene. His amazing dedication and hard work are more than just words. They are one of the main reasons SLV looks like it does today.

A lot of wonderful people have been a part of my/our team over the years. The current staff is undoubtedly the best when it comes to working together to make things happen. The left and right and the middle all become one when something needs to get done. Michael gets up in the middle of the night to help see you off at the airport, and when he went on a cruise, others filled in around him immediately. People come in on their days off to finish projects, come in early and stay late. Those things don't happen at most places. They just don't.

There's the extremely short story of how we got to today, 44 years later, a dedicated staff serving an appreciative group of ever-changing travelers. The directions set and wisdom shared by your parents, grandparents and older friends are still a part of how we approach business every single day.

During business hours, we answer our phones with real people. We do our best to be fair and honest, to treat you like we would like to be treated. That sounds corny and old school, but hey, none of us are teenagers. Maybe we'll start a trend. Or finish one.

Thank each and every one of you for your support. I try to say that often, but sometimes, in the heat of the moment,

I forget. That is why I have this incredible team of people around me, doing most of the work.

Voices in the Crowd

At the Spring Preview Day, we asked those in attendance three questions, about where they like to be dropped for dinner on San Francisco theater trips, North Beach or Pier 39; between United and Southwest, which airline you prefer; and finally, if the Rose Parade in Pasadena is still on anyone's bucket list. A breakdown of the responses and a bit of commentary can be found on The Human Side on page 4.

Looking out over the over 400 faces in the crowd prior to the start of Mark Alan Cash entertaining at Preview Day, I saw so many memories. You didn't know, but they were written on your faces, the places we've been together and the things we've discovered. Some of you have so many memories displayed, you are running out of face space! What an amazing problem to have...

And so it goes,

Clayton Place... Bits and Pieces

Friends:

As a company we are blessed in so very many ways. Not the least of which is our frequent contact with you, our members, travelers and friends! From in-person meetings like the recent Spring Preview Day to printed and online publications, we love sharing our news with you, hearing from you and especially seeing your smiling faces. Of course one of the most frequent and pleasing ways to meet up is when we're out on the road exploring a new destination or an old favorite together. Often you'll find the Tour Director was the planner of the trip as well, having created the itinerary from the start and worked on it for months, making every effort for smooth sailing all along the way. At the completion of each trip the Tour Director writes a report covering what went right and, when necessary, what went wrong, including suggestions for future improvements. These are important documents when that planner or another begins the creation process for a future tour to the same or a similar destination. However no comments are more important to us than the ones which come from you.

Most multi-day vacations are followed by an online evaluation sent through a website called Survey Monkey – funny name; serious business! This gives you the opportunity to rate every aspect of the tour from your interactions with office staff when making the reservation all the way through your ride home at the end, plus everything in-between. My favorite part of any survey is the very last question when we ask you to “share a couple of new and/or interesting places or special events you would like Sports Leisure Vacations to investigate for future departures.” You would be amazed to know how many new ideas come from here!

Other important sources of information are the mini-surveys we distribute at Preview Day gatherings. Last year we asked you to give us your Dream Destination. Australia was number one on that list. Your wish was our command. A 20-day all-Australia tour was rolled out at Spring Preview Day. Monday morning it sold out within minutes.

Looking over all your replies (we tallied every single one) we noticed an interesting trend. For much of our company's existence (44 years and counting!) such a question – and it's one we've asked often – produced answers like Hawaii, New York and Paris. They were still there, but further down the list. Your dreams have become more exotic and located down roads less traveled.

With Spring Preview Day in the rearview mirror, we now set our sights on the next horizon – Vacation Preview Day (tentatively set for Saturday, October 7) and the publication of our 2024 Dream Book. Therein you'll find more results from the Dream Destination survey, such as a journey to Prague and the Czech Republic's wine region – our first ever land tour in that country. A new Ireland tour staying only in castles and manor houses is also taking shape, and for those of you who have long been on the Azores Priority Notification List, take heart! I'm working on that one, too. Bavaria and the Swiss Alps are high on the list, along with Mexico's Copper Canyon. We're also working on a number of new Canadian itineraries including Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, Niagara and Ottawa during the Tulip Festival, and the return of Canada from Coast to Coast – Halifax to Vancouver by rail. Of course adding new destinations means we must say goodbye to a few old standbys. It will not be a forever goodbye! Just moving some historically annual tours to every-other-yearly status. Those already on a two-year rotation might be moving back to every three or four years. For me that means no New Orleans, San Antonio, Washington, DC or Michigan/Mackinac Island next year, but they'll be all the sweeter when we return. Until then please keep the comments coming. We promise to keep making your travel dreams come true in return!

“Your Tour Guy,”

Clayton Whitehead, CTP

The Taxi Ride

I arrived at the address and honked the horn. After waiting a few minutes I honked again. Since this was going to be my last ride of my shift I thought about just driving away, but instead I put the car in park and walked up to the door and knocked...

'Just a minute', answered a frail, elderly voice. After a long pause, the door opened. A small woman in her 90's stood before me. She was wearing a print dress and a pillbox hat with a veil pinned on it, like somebody out of a 1940's movie. The apartment looked as if no one had lived in it for years. All the furniture was covered with sheets.

'Would you carry my bag out to the car?' she said. I took the suitcase to the cab, then returned to assist the woman. She took my arm and we walked slowly toward the curb. She kept thanking me for my kindness.

'It's nothing', I told her. 'I just try to treat my passengers the way I would want my mother to be treated.' 'Oh, you're such a good boy', she said.

When we got in the cab, she gave me an address and then asked, 'Could you drive through downtown?' 'It's not the shortest way,' I answered quickly. 'Oh, I don't mind,' she said. 'I'm in no hurry. I'm on my way to a hospice'.

I looked in the rear-view mirror. Her eyes were glistening. 'I don't have any family left,' she continued in a soft voice... 'The doctor says I don't have very long.'

I quietly reached over and shut off the meter. 'What route would you like me to take?' I asked. For the next two hours, we drove through the city. She showed me the building where she had once worked as an elevator operator.

We drove through the neighborhood where she and her husband had lived when they were newlyweds. She had me pull up in front of a furniture warehouse that had once been a ballroom where she had gone dancing as a girl. Sometimes she'd ask me to slow in front of a particular building or corner and would sit staring into the darkness, saying nothing.

As the first hint of sun was creasing the horizon, she suddenly said, 'I'm tired. Let's go now'. We drove in silence to the address she had given me. It was a low building, like a small convalescent home, with a driveway that passed under a portico. Two orderlies came out to the cab as soon as we pulled up. They were solicitous and intent, watching her every move. They must have been expecting her.

I opened the trunk and took the small suitcase to the door. The woman was already seated in a wheelchair.

'How much do I owe you?' She asked, reaching into her purse. 'Nothing,' I answered. 'You have to make a living,' she said. 'There are other passengers,' I responded.

Almost without thinking, I bent and gave her a hug. She held onto me tightly.

'You gave an old woman a little moment of joy,' she said. 'Thank you.' I squeezed her hand, and then walked into the dim morning light. Behind me, a door shut. It was the sound of the closing of a life...

For the rest of that day, I could hardly talk. What if that woman had gotten an angry driver, or one who was impatient to end his shift? What if I had refused to take the run, or had honked once, then driven away?

On a quick review, I don't think that I have done anything more important in my life. We're conditioned to think that our lives revolve around great moments. But great moments often catch us unaware – beautifully wrapped in what others may consider a small one.

Friends We've Lost...

We pause for a moment to remember our traveling friends who have passed. Rest in peace friends.

Dear Mark,

The day trip to San Francisco on April 12 to see the musical "Come From Away" at the Golden Gate Theater turned out to be the mystery trip "Come To and From Vallejo".

Diesel engine troubles sidelined the trip for over an hour on a shoulder of #80 just past the Vallejo rest stop. As the 1 pm curtain time came and went, a decision was made to turn around & return to Sacramento when the bus became operable again. Driver Simon and Hostess Maureen are to be commended for their tenacity in pursuing solutions, in keeping riders updated on progress, and in continuing an upbeat attitude. Thanks.

Doris Beckert

Dear SLV,

I just had to let you all know that the trip 3/23 to Sonora was fabulous!! the theater was terrific--we had great seats, the Firenze restaurant was delicious. I would love to see more plays there. There are some coming up, some of which are in Columbia.

I just wanted you to know... Cudos to you all!! Sincerely VeNae Crabtree

Dear Mark,

Just came back from the snow train and what a great time. We were well taken care of by Maureen. She made sure all our questions were answered and that we knew important details even before we could think to ask them. Our room was great also. Boudins lunch very very good!!! And big thank you to Simon for getting us there safely and also the care that both Maureen and Simon showed to make sure our luggage got where it was supposed to on both ends of the trip. Thank you both – awesome job!!!

Theresa Davis

Hi Mark,

I hope you are doing well. I wanted to let you know my Mom Rita passed away Wednesday evening. It has been a very, very long road, but she is finally at peace, and we're so blessed to have had her for so many years. She would have been 93 years old in June. She was such a wonderfully joyful, kind and gracious person who was so thankful for everything in her life. I know she would want us to carry that on in our own lives. I also know how much she adored you and so looked forward to the trips she was able to take with Sports Leisure over several years. She was always so excited to go somewhere (anywhere), meet new people and see new things. And she was especially thrilled when you would be leading the trips. I'm so grateful that she was able to get to know people like you. You were a blessing in her life. So I want to say thank you. Wishing you all the best always,

Heather Donoho

The Barber Pole, or Once Over Lightly

At our Spring Review Day, as is our custom, we asked attendees a few questions to glean some important pieces of information from them. For the benefit of those who participated in the survey and others who might be curious, here are the results. (We asked three questions.)

#1. In recent times, we have offered North Beach instead of Pier 39 as a dinner drop off after a show. So we asked: On Theater day trips, what is your preferred dining drop off in San Francisco, North Beach or Pier 39?

31% said Pier 39

11% said North Beach

58% like both

Bottom Line: 9 out of 10 are happy at Pier 39, 7 out of 10 are happy at North Beach.

We will continue to use both (but not on the same trip).

#2. Here's the entire set-up for the question: United vs. Southwest, when the destination is served by both. United costs more (plus there is a $70 round trip baggage fee) but you have seat assignments, can purchase food on board and earn frequent flyer credits. Southwest saves you money and bags are free, but seating isn't reserved. No food and no frequent flyer credits. Given that background, do you have a preference?

31% responded United

42% responded Southwest

27% responded "just save me money"

Bottom Line: There were a number of "direct/non-stop flights are what I prefer" in the comments, indicating Southwest's offering of point to point flights, and not just service to giant hubs, is noticed by our travelers. There were 4 votes for American Airlines, none for Delta. We do not use American currently because of their poor customer service record the past 5-6 years. Delta is an occasional choice, especially is we can utilize the non-stop to or from Atlanta. SLV Staff Note: Southwest is the easiest carrier for us to work with, in terms of reserving and ticketing our groups.

#3. For decades a trip to the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena on New Year's Day was a standard Sports Leisure event.

38% told us to "Bring it Back!"

62% told us, "been there, done that."

They have emerged as a phenomenon with a massive fan base, numerous national television appearances and proven success with CD releases. Gettysburg & Hershey – A Sweet Combination

A small town, chocolate-coated Christmas (Market) holiday

6 Days • November 30 – December 5

This adventure was a Christmas Mystery Tour just a few years ago. Your fellow travelers rated it higher than any tour that year, so we've brought the itinerary back, and added a Christmas Market to really put it over the top.

Gettysburg is the perfect village for the holidays. It's a small town with a historic twist. You arrive Thursday night, and the weekend brings the town's holiday festivities. There's a Christmas parade, gift bazaars put on by local organizations, holiday concerts and there's also that little Civil War battle from nearly 160 years ago.

You'll stay at the Gettysburg Hotel, located right on the town square. It's a historic property with the best location in town for three nights. Start your visit with a tour of the sites of the Battle of Gettysburg, the most deadly conflict of the Civil War. Our guide will make the monuments part of the battle scene and take you behind-the-scenes. The National Park Service offers a Visitor Center which is worth a visit. Then you leave most of the history behind and celebrate the holidays. Service clubs host small bazaars all over town, and we'll drop in at a couple to help you find that perfect present. A Christmas parade highlights one evening, a holiday concert another.

At your next stop accommodations are at the luxurious Hotel Hershey for two nights. You'll feel like a queen (or king) as you enjoy the fine service.

During your time in Hershey you'll get to be a kid in a chocolate store as you make your own chocolate bar. There's also a guided tour of the picturesque town. Koziar's Christmas Village has the feel of a holiday market, with lots of shops and seasonal refreshments. Add in Christmas lights and you have a great evening.

Based on the number of people who have asked about this tour in the past couple of years, we expect the 30 seats will go quickly. Package includes roundtrip air Sacramento/Harrisburg, 9 meals (4FB,1BR,2L,2D) and our signature door-to-door service. 3250/3650 Gold Passport Points

A Bavarian Christmas in Leavenworth

An authentic holiday journey into the Cascade Mountains

4 Days • December 5-8

Many Sports Leisure travelers have enjoyed Leavenworth, a Bavarian-style village, in the summertime. Now come with us on this winter visit to enjoy all the town has to offer in a different light. You'll want to shop for gifts in the Bavarian-themed shops,

ACTIVITY METER

As part of our commitment to helping you select the right tour for your interests and physical abilities, check out the Activity Meter for each tour to get a feel for how it matches your interests, energy and fitness. It's important to note that more than one level may apply to a tour. For example, some will enjoy a visit to a national park by spending time in the visitor's center and taking a seat with a view. Others might prefer to hike on a nature trail. Same destination, same tour, two different levels of activity.

The letter abbreviations for each departure can be found in the Table of Contents listing for the tour. Where you see two letters, that indicates the ability to add activities or do optional things which increase the amount of physical activity (standing, walking, climbing stairs, etc.). The meter is a guideline. It is impossible to predict every situation on tour, since conditions may change before or during a trip which require itinerary adjustments.

L Leisurely – A tour that can be enjoyed by all. A minimal amount of required walking on city streets or generally level surfaces, with few stairs. A theater day trip might be an example.

M Moderate – A tour with some walking activities, and standing/strolling at attractions and museums and possibly some stair climbing. A daytrip to the ballpark or a short regional trip (Monterey, CA Coast) might be examples. A moderate trip could include air transportation and navigating through airports.

A Active – A tour which includes longer walks (3-5 city blocks). Shorter walks could be on uneven surfaces. Days could be longer (including longer travel days with layovers). Some of the trips could be at high altitudes.

This would be the level for most of our longer distance domestic and Canadian tours, the minimum level for an overseas international tour. Tours which mention the ability to walk 3-5 city blocks in a timely fashion a couple of times a day fit into this category, as would most of our national park tours. You could find a flight of stairs without handrails. A tour with a seaplane or jeep ride, and the ability to climb into the plane/jeep, would be found in this category. Longer rail tours fit in this category.

E Energetic – A tour with an accent on opportunities for walking and other physical activities. Many overseas tours would fit in this category. Long plane flights, perhaps standing or walking longer distances. You might have to climb into a boat, carriage or train. If you need wheelchair assistance at the airport or other places, you should not consider a tour on this level.

C Challenging – Tours like these are designed with daily physical activities like hiking and other vigorous activities and can be great travel experiences, but they are not typical of Sports Leisure Vacations trips.

including The Hat Shop, The Bubbly and the Nutcracker House. Skiing probably isn't on the agenda for most of our travelers, but how about an old fashioned sleigh ride? The town has also become known for its fondue in the winter months. We'll have to sample some! Of course there will be Christmas lights and a bit of holiday entertainment...

Stay 3 nights at the Bavarian Lodge, the best accommodations located right in the center of town. Fly roundtrip to/from Seattle on Southwest/Alaska Airlines. The package includes 7 meals.

Pricing on this trip will be available soon.

We encourage you to register without obligation in order to secure your space.

22nd Annual Christmas Lights Mystery Tour

I wonder where in the world they'll take us this time???

5 Days • December 12-16

This Winter Wonderland is so close, yet so very far away. Here they love mayo AND Miracle Whip (though hopefully not on the same bun at the same time). Holidays dazzle with sounds and lights. "HAY bells ring. Are you listening?" Here Scandinavian giants rule. You'll get European Christmas markets without a flight over the pond as bonfires illuminate the starlit skies. S'mores, anyone? Of course Santa Claus will be here. He'll be extremely comfortable in his warm and furry suit. You bring a heavy coat, too, for a dusting of snow is not just possible. It's probable. Hey, is that Frosty the Snowman? Could be. Yes, friends, it could definitely be old Frosty! Package includes roundtrip air, 8 meals (4FB,2L,2D) and our signature door-to-door service. 3550/3900 Gold Passport Points

It's hard to describe, but lots of fun! (FB,D)

6. The Museum of Native American History starts the day, founded by a small band of Cherokees who live in "them thar hills." Lunch is served at Crystal Bridges, the world-class art museum built for the growing collection of Alice Walton (daughter of Sam). You simply won't believe this place. The collection is stunning, and the building even more so – an architectural jewel nestled in the Ozarks. The entire afternoon will be spent enjoying the collection in its lovely setting both inside and out. (FB,L)

7. Depart to the west bound for Claremore, Oklahoma, home of Will Rogers, where you will visit the museum dedicated to his memory. Then on to Tulsa and our afternoon flight home. (FB,L)

Barry Manilow in Palm Springs

December

Who wants to see Barry Manilow live and in person at the McCallum Theatre in Palm Springs? Yeah, we want to see him, too. The final itinerary will be a 3 or 4-day package with transportation, accommodations and holiday activities wherever we can find them. Maybe we'll even have a date shake!

Over the River and Through the Woods to Christmas Dinner We Go!

December 25

In lieu of a multi-day tour over Christmas Day, we're looking instead at the possibility of a Daycation built around a great midday meal in a beautifully decorated setting complete with a gift exchange and other surprises. If interested in joining in the fun please let us know!

Winter in Whitefish

January 25-29

Fly to Kalispell. From there it's only a twenty-minute drive to Whitefish, Montana, gateway to Glacier National Park. Stay four nights at The Firebrand Hotel, a beautiful boutique property located in the heart of downtown. At the Bar W Ranch take a sleigh ride and dog sled ride. Snowshoe in Glacier National Park. Tour a Clydesdale farm. Visit Columbia Falls for the annual Skijoring Festival, a winter sport where a person on skis is pulled by a horse and does jumps and flips! Visit the Conrad Mansion, a 26-room home built by the founder of Kalispell, Charles Conrad, in 1895. Possible evening entertainment could include Montana singer/songwriter David Walburn.

Ashland Chocolate Festival

March 1-3

Ashland's premier event turns 20 next year and we want to join the celebration! Come along on this no-fly journey to Oregon for the sweetest weekend ever! We'll stay at the home of the Chocolate Festival, The Ashland Hills Hotel & Suites for two nights, so all the delectable activities are just down the hallway from your room. The elegant Chocolate Maker's Dinner, a multi-course experience accompanied by a wine pairing with each course, will be an "opt-in" event. (We will offer an alternate dinner for those wanting something lighter Saturday night.)

The folks at the Festival have added a new grand finale on Sunday: A Chocolate Brunch. Sounds too delicious to pass up, right?

Colorful Carolina Coast

March 12-21

This Signature Tour has operated most years since its inception in 1994, yet people are still drawn to the beauty and other-worldliness of the Atlantic Coast. Join us for a leisurely journey down the Outer Banks of North Carolina past century-old lighthouses and pirate hideaways. See the battleship USS North Carolina in Wilmington. Spend two carefree days hunting for seashells on Myrtle Beach. Visit Ft. Sumter where the Civil War began. Feast on a Low Country boil, finished off with Toot's famous prune cake – a special treat for everyone visiting her Georgia home. End with two nights each in the historic districts of Charleston and Savannah, both draped in history and mystery as thick as the Spanish moss hanging from the live oaks.

Springtime in Monterey

April 7-10

Start your tour with a champagne brunch in the Bay Area, then visit Filoli House and Garden to marvel at the spring flowers. Tour 17-Mile Drive with lunch at Pebble Beach Inn at Spanish Bay. Travel down into Carmel Valley for sightseeing, lunch and optional wine tasting. Spend three nights on Cannery Row where breakfast is brought to your room on a silver tray and there is a complimentary wine reception nightly. We need your input: The Spindrift Hotel is in the center of it all and only a block from the Aquarium. All of their rooms facing Cannery Row are king-bedded – none have two beds. Both king and two-bedded rooms with ocean views are available... but at twice the price. This means the price for single occupancy (city view/king bed) is going to be about the same as double occupancy (ocean view/two beds). Which room type would you choose? If this tour interests you please let us know your choice of view and bedding when you place your name on the list.

Comedy, Dollars & Legends – A Mystery Tour

May 4-9

Various operational issues made this tour impossible to run this spring, but it's just too awesome an itinerary to dismiss! We'll try again next May! This trip is all about legends. We'll, not ALL about legends, but certainly many are highlighted. For example, wouldn't you consider a buffalo to be a legendary creature? And I don't know about you, but I always loved Lucille. OK, maybe that's a little corny. Some things on this tour are worth exactly one dollar and not a penny more. Others are worth a thousand words, and there are lots and lots of them along the way. Just don't fall over, because it's a long way down. Yes, it's only a brief moment, but still...

Mammoth & Mono Lakes, Fall Colors in the Sierra

4 Days • October 3-6

High Altitude Warning: Accommodations in Mammoth Lakes are at 7,900 ft.

Enjoy a coach ride through the high Sierra at what is traditionally high season for fall foliage, destination Mammoth Lakes. Mammoth is one of the country's premier Ski Resorts, starting in November. Before the snow arrives, the colors change in the high mountains, offering the visitor an often-spectacular landscape at a time when the number of mountain visitors is traditionally low. If you enjoy spectacular mountain scenery and a bit of history, please join us.

Stay three nights at the Sierra Nevada Lodge, a newly reopened local facility with beautiful accommodations. Your itinerary also features 10 meals (every meal on the trip is included in the tour price), guided sightseeing and admission fees.

1. From the Sports Leisure office (our departure point) to Mammoth is roughly a 5-hour journey. On the way to Mammoth, we'll detour into the ghost town of Bodie.

Bodie State Historic Park is a genuine California gold-mining ghost town. Visitors can walk down the deserted streets of a town that once had a population of nearly 10,000 people. The town is named for Waterman S. Body (William Bodey), who had discovered small amounts of gold in hills north of Mono Lake. People flocked to Bodie and transformed it from a town of a few dozen to a boomtown.

Only a small part of the town survives. Interiors remain as they were left and stocked with goods. Designated as a National Historic Site and a State Historic Park in 1962, the remains of Bodie are being preserved in a state of "arrested decay". Today this once thriving mining camp is visited by tourists, howling winds and an occasional ghost.

2-3. Two, day sightseeing trips highlight your stay. The first includes a visit to Mono Lake. Mono Lake is an ancient saline lake located at the eastern edge of the Sierra Nevada in California. Home to trillions of brine shrimp, millions of birds, and world-famous tufa towers, its tributary streams also supply water to Los Angeles, nearly 350 miles to the south. It's one of the most unusual lakes in the world. Your visit includes a guided walk, a stop at the visitors center and lunch in nearby Lee Vining.

On the return trip to Mammoth, detour onto the June Lakes Loop. Also a ski area in winter, it's a great place for an afternoon break.

The following day journey to Convict Lake. As you might guess, there's a story here. Nearby Crowley Lake also provides some photo opportunities. Back in town, there's a short visit to the ski resort area, then some free time to relax or browse the modest shops in town. (2FB,2L,2D)

4. The return trip is direct, with rest and lunch stops en route, arriving in late afternoon to your door-to-door service. (FB,L)

Route 66 – Western Side

Oklahoma City to Santa Monica, featuring the Albuquerque Balloon Fiesta

9 Days • October 9-17

The second half of your journey down The Mother Road is very different from the eastern side. The spaces are more wide open in the west. There are national parks and the small towns are further apart and have a different personality.

In Winslow, you'll want your picture "Standin' on a Corner in Winslow, Arizona," (like the lyric in the old Eagles song), and we'll head out to Petrified Forest National Park, one of the most fascinating places in the country. Of course, the highlight of your Winslow stay, is your two nights at La Posada, a restored Harvey House Hotel from the highway's glory days.

See the old Cadillacs "rear ends up" in Texas and eat at the famous Big Texan in Amarillo. Meet legendary Angel Delgadillo, the retired barber in Seligman, Arizona, who is the man most responsible for the preservation of the old highway. He's 95 now and still going strong. Finish at the pier in Santa Monica.
